Hi Jim, welcome back, I was out yesterday so I didn't see your email til this am. I think youre right about the lab's future down the road. With the state having some extra money now, I definitely can see DPS trying to expand. We have that Forensic Science Study and Recommendation from 2004 saying the State Police should do the drug testing for the state. I don't think anybody downtown at DPH will fight to hard for us. The next budget proposal in January of 2012 will tell the story. See you the next time you get down to Boston. Chuck S

Hi Chuck,

This attached article is from today's Hampshire Gazette (10/6/11). Looks like lab will be safe another year, but read the last 2 paragraphs. It looks like they will be trying to put us under State Police soon!
